Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claim 16-30 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The primary reasons for allowance is the inclusion of the following limitations as a whole in each independent claim directed towards a first network element (and corresponding computer program product, system and method) of a cellular network for implementing a messaging service between a messaging server external to the cellular network and a terminal of the cellular network:

" said first network element of the cellular network is capable of knowing values of parameters relating to the readiness of terminals of the cellular network to receive data, the readiness of said terminal to receive data through said first network element being interpreted with the help of said parameter values, the first network element comprising:

for a situation, where said terminal is ready to receive data through the first network element:

means for indicating said readiness is said first response message to said messaging server; and for a situation where said terminal is not ready to receive data through the first network element:

means for sending a second inquiry to a home location register of the cellular network to determine a set of permissible network elements of the cellular network, the network elements belonging to the set of permissible network elements having in their knowledge values of parameters relating to the readiness of terminals to receive data, and through which network elements said terminal has the ability to receive data; and means for receiving in response to said second inquiry a second response message from the home location register, the second response message indicating said set of permissible network elements to said first network element.”

(from claim 1, similar limitations in each independent claim)

This subject matter is not found in the prior art, nor is it obvious in view of the prior art.
